Are you a graduate, school or college leaver?

Are you struggling to start your career?

Have you been unemployed, or working in a temporary job for some time?

If the answer to these questions is yes, we can help.

Love Productions are looking for young people, aged 18-24, who are keen to find work but don't have the experience to get on the first rung of the ladder.

We're going to take a small group of people and put them through a series of intensive work placements, with some of the biggest companies in the country.

Successful applicants will learn from the brightest people in the business world, from office juniors to chief executives and at the end of which, employers will be able to phone in and express an interest in hiring those who have completed our work placements - live on air!

Each work experience placement will be filmed as part of a documentary series for BBC Three. If you're interested in being considered for this unique opportunity, please fill out the application form below and return it to us with a recent photo of yourself as soon as possible.
