INTERNSHIPS

“Due to widespread demand, internships are offered in Jeremy Hunt’s office to those who are looking for the opportunity to get hands on work experience and an insight into the world of politics. Expenses are covered for all internships so they are open to as many people as possible and guidance and training is provided throughout. The office enters in to an intern volunteer agreement as set out by the Independent Parliamentary Standards Authority. Jeremy Hunt’s Office is extremely proud of its track record of assisting previous interns in finding full time employment at the end of their three month internship”
